Susan,

See the email below with the link that Heidi was telling you about the watershed program down in Durango area. Heidi's Dad has been intimately involved with this.

Hey check out the comment (a video attached) to this recent article, particularly the footage with acknowledgements at the end – it was a surprise to me. I didn't know the video was completed. It's been circulating for a while I guess. Some rare footage of the old man at work!

I didn't know this article was being written. There are a couple of quotes from me from an ARSG meeting, not an interview, that I wish hadn't been published.
